product Automatic standout The Cory Grosser + Associates product designer and brand strategist's sketches of "approachable forms with soft edges" sparked this adorable perch with integrated pull strap and spring-loaded casters for easy maneuvering. bernhardtdesign.com product Sissi standout New from the husband-wife architects behind Studio Fuksas are aluminum stools (in blue, silver, yellow, red, green, and orange) that double as sculptures, stacking to form an epic totem. altreforme.com product Marien152

standout This counter- or bar-height stool offers loads of support from its comfy cushioned backrest, while the plethora of finishes, base styles, and upholstery options available suit its countenance to virtually any workspace. coalesse.com product Richard standout Ecothylene (recycled plastic PE) is the sole material of this sculptural seat by the Antwerp-based designers, whose company takes discarded plastic toys and turns them into colorful design furniture—many sized for children. ecobirdy.com
